The following are important announcements from previous newsletters:

Athletics Update

At BSA we value student athletics and last year we added Volleyball and Flag Football to our existing program of boys and girls Basketball, Soccer and Track. We believe that being able to participate in team sports is a fundamentally important part of the student experience in high school for those interested. Unfortunately, COVID-19 has forced us off of the fields and courts that we frequently practiced and competed on around the city.

BSA's Athletics program is currently suspended and is NOT operating, sanctioning or taking part in leagues or practices for ANY sport. We never started our athletics program this school year, including practices, because the leagues we participate in did not feel it was safe to do so. When we went remote on March 13, 2020, all athletics at BSA halted, and have remained on pause since that date.

BSA intends to resume athletics in the Spring, assuming that current COVID-19 safety restrictions are lifted, or modified to the point where we feel it is safe to participate in sports again. If we determine that it safe to resume practices, or other alternative sports programming prior to the Spring, we will notify caregivers in writing of the change via this newsletter.

Thank you for understanding, and please know that we will do everything we can to safely resume sports at BSA in the coming months.

Advocacy is happening on Zoom!

Advocacy is every Wednesday at 12pm with your student's Champion Advocate in their designated zoom room listed on their Advocacy Google Classroom! If your student's Champion Advocate hasn't reached out yet, they will soon. Please help remind your student to show up for their Advocacy and build community with their peers.

What are we trying to accomplish? During the once a week advocacy periods, Champion groups will focus on four distinct areas: Social Emotional Learning, Academics, Attendance, and School Culture. The purpose of advocacy is to foster relationships with our youth and provide a safe space where they can begin to explore topics and develop a sense of community within our school and with small groups and peers.

Why is this important? Setting aside dedicated advocacy time for staff and students helps to foster the growth on multiple levels. It allows for real discussions to take place rooted in our school goals: Equity and Social Justice, Restorative Justice, and Academic Rigor. Through our advocacy units we hope to gauge our students in a myriad of approaches and discussion techniques about their futures, academics, and support. Advocacy's main goal is to support students and families while acting as an extra safety net that BSA has baked into its school culture.

Student Guidelines for Digital Behavior

BSA has developed a comprehensive and supportive Code of Conduct that still applies to student behavior when operating remotely. Please click here for further information on our digital Code of Conduct.
